Library Resources and Services for Graduate Students Math, SAS and Math Ed.

Tuesday, October 7, 4:00 pm - 5:00 pm
Pearce Hall, Room 227

Central Michigan University Libraries strives to meet the curricular and research needs of students and faculty throughout the university; to accomplish this the Libraries subscribe to resources and services supporting the myriad programs available at CMU. This session will focus on specific library resources of interest to graduate mathematics students including the library catalog, the SmartSearch discovery tool, and MathSciNet. Library services such as Documents on Demand interlibrary loan service will also be demonstrated. Attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions during and after the presentation.
